10th Annual Economic Briefing

April 8, 2008 ~ Ontario Convention Center

Gold Level ~ $6,500

Southern California's economy is stronger than the state as a whole, thanks in part to the Inland Empire. As one of the fastest-growing areas in the nation, the Inland Empire is the most sought-after land in California and has accounted for 42% of the jobs in Southern California in the last sixteen years.

The Economic Briefing has become the premier economic event for the Inland Empire and is expected to attract several hundred businesses and political leaders this year. The Economic Briefing serves as a growth catalyst by addressing issues and questions about the Inland Empire economy, as well as providing data and viewpoints from multiple industries. During the event, the region's economic prospects are forecast through speakers.

Prior to the luncheon, there will be a business expo where vendors will exhibit their products and services to the business community. As a partner, you have ample opportunities to participate in this event. Take a look at what the Tenth Annual Business Press Economic Briefing has to offer your company.
